Smart Forms

Institutions have a need for a large number of online forms to track a variety of information. Many such forms exist in various disparate systems; others do not exist at all. Furthermore, most of these forms are typically attached to students or staff and need to be completed individually. The ScholarChip Smart Forms application is an elegant solution to fulfill these needs. Institutions can now create any arbitrary form online and then utilize it to collect information with the tap of a student or staff card. The card tap creates an accurate link to the exact student or staff, including photograph, and saves the effort of entering student information while reducing the inevitable clerical errors.

ScholarChip® Smart Forms

The Smart Forms application is as simple as it is elegant and powerful. Any administrator can create a template form with any number of fields which can vary from text boxes to drop downs to selection boxes. Once created, the form is available for use in collecting any student related information. The student simply taps their card against a USB reader and the student's demographics are immediately inserted into the form. The user can then add any specific information. This component of the ScholarChip One Card platform is a time saver that also increases accuracy and improves reporting.

Features & Benefits:

Create & maintain any forms with arbitrary collection of fields

Auto fill the demographic section of the form with the simple tap of a student card

Forms can have document attachments with no limit on number or size.

Forms are "inheritable" from the parent campus to any child campuses for ease of maintenance and standardization
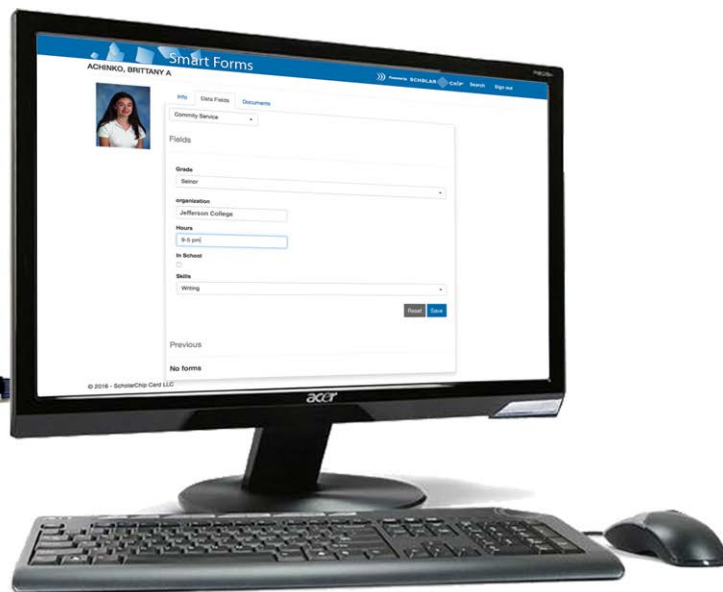

Open APi (Web Service SOAP or JSON) for interface with any school back-end system

Correlating Services:

ID Manager (Issuing the One Card)

Student Location and Safety

Students simply tap their Smart ID Card onto the reader and their information pupulates your form
